WELCOME

Na Tubelenge Children's Library
Was born out of pure love for children and the desire to improve the quality of their lives. It is a community-centered non-profit organization that was started in 2015 by two friends (Nachizo and Mainess).

It first started as an open-air library under a mango tree in the backyard and later graduated into an actual library with walls after realizing the high levels of illiteracy and the poor reading culture amongst children in communities.

OUR TEAM

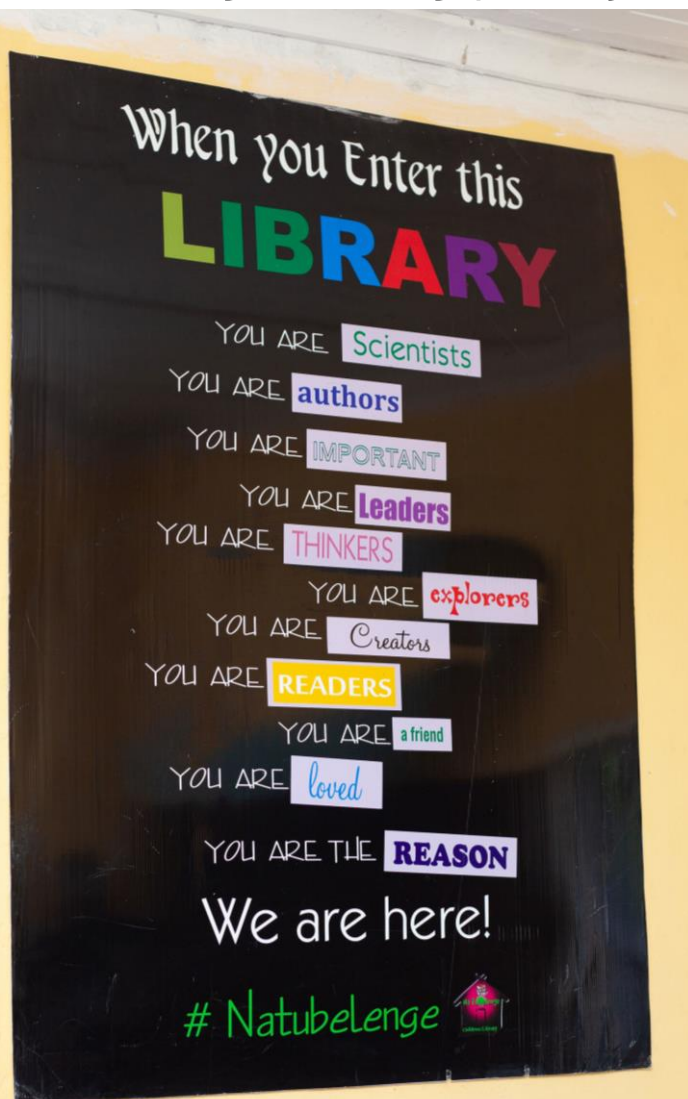

At Natubelenge Children's Library, our team is a vibrant and dedicated collective of educators, librarians, consultants, volunteers, and communications professionals. Our diverse backgrounds come together through a shared passion for children, young people, and lifelong learning.

Each team member contributes unique value, whether through teaching experience, deep community knowledge, storytelling ability, or essential behind-the-scenes coordination. It's this blend of perspectives and strengths that allows us to create a library that is not only a space for reading but a place where children feel seen, supported, and inspired. We learn from one another and continually grow as a team, always keeping the children and communities we serve at the heart of everything we do.

WHY NCL

Natubelenge Children's Library is a safe and inclusive space where children and young people from all backgrounds can play, learn, and read. All our activities are supervised by adults, in line with our safeguarding policy.

If we do not invest in children now we will have to invest in law enforcement and social services that manage dysfunctional adults later.
